addressing this

—----------

Trigger warning:
Grooming, nsfw , mental health issues such as suicide , self harm, zoophile , abuse.

Please note:
Do not harass anyone mentioned or hinted at. Honestly I dont want to be involved anymore than I already am.

I first wanna start off with an apology for me taking so long to respond. I'll explain below afterwards because I wanna get straight to the point. I'm also posting this (but retweeting on new) to keep things organized. If you need to read more it's posted here: https://mobile.twitter.com/birbdotavi?lang=en

I'm NOT going into detail about anyone else but sleepyymouse in this post.

When mouse met me, I was about to be 17
(My birthday is Dec 15th).

The feral nsfw:
We were in a call and I believe we're on the topic of googling anthro disney characters which lead to the nsfw. I remember us talking about how fucked up it was to draw shit like it.Again, i am NOT a zoophile nor was I ever. It wasn't meant to be taken as anything and I thought it was what all close friends joked about due to my family always joking about sexual things at a young age. I honestly didn't know back then it was wrong to do and only in the past few years have I learned that the behavior was gross.

Nsfw:
Lewd img of self: I was 17 going through alot of shit and I thought it was funny. I can't excuse this. I was attention needy and I should have known better but I didn't.
Nsfw art: I saw it mostly as joking. Again I grew up in an environment where joking about nsfw is normalized. Hindsight is 20/20.

Grooming:
My intention was never to come off as grooming. When I was younger, thought anyone who showed the slightest friendless to me, I thought I had a "crush" on them due my low self respect and low self-esteem. (Looking back , I now realize it was just happiness to have a friend and not an actual crush) It was that way for years , including when I was 11-12 on Facebook role-playing with obvious pedophiles. I never wanted sexual or romantic pleasure out of our friendship. I was just normalized to a lot of ideas that I don't believe anymore.

Acephobia:
I don't stand those beliefs anymore. The thing on private was me confused about how you could be asexual and draw porn because I was genuinely confused (and ngl little spiteful).
I'm doing my best to correct myself.

Deadnaming / wrong pronoun use:
I covered this in my last document (on birbdotavi) .
But a lot of the time I did it out of spite.
It was transphobic for me to do.
I'm working on it.

Self harm / suicide:
I am genuinely sorry for everyone I put through this throughout my life.
I wasn't getting therapy and alot of it was a cry for attention/ help. To me it was a test to see if anyone actually cared about me back then. I just didn't wanna feel alone in this world and I didn't have the words to express it And I am genuinely sorry you had to go through what you went through when it came to me and my self harm and suicide attempts.

Stealing character design:
The purple racoon dog thing: Mouse, I thought that's what you genuinely wanted me to do because you were going off on how that person was stealing your designs.

I honestly thought it was something you wanted and I just wanted to make you happy.
The brown winged shiba dog:

This character has part of a group of fast adopts that took me 10 mins max to make. I didn't nor did I have the intention to rip off your sona. The color palette is a coincidence.

Meltdowns:
I have BPD, now this is not an excuse for my behavior, it's only for explanation purposes.
I have all 9 criteria traits. (If you wanna know more about BPD : https://www.helpguide.org/articles/mental-disorders/borderline-personality-disorder.htm) I was professionally diagnosed with BPD at the start- mid of 2020. I have explosive anger at times and it can be over the smallest things. I'm trying my best to work on it with my therapist. I do regret exploding on thoses close to me and after I do apologize and try to make up for it because I feel guilty. This has been happening since I was a preteen. It always feels like a layer or two of my emotional state is gone and I feel more exposed to such things. I honestly don't mean to hurt people and it's the last thing I want.

Mouse, I am honestly sorry you feel the way you do. I didn't know you took it seriously and I'm sorry you had to experience what you did. I wish you would have told me (though I do understand you don't owe me such).

Below is mental health junk, you can leave the doc now if you are not interested.

Tw for pedophila, grooming, sexual abuse, self harm and suicide.

I have been professionally diagnosed with BPD, PTSD and BED.
(Borderline personality disorder, post traumatic stress disorder, binge eating disorder)
I am planning with my therapist to get tested within the year for ADHD.

I was sexually abused and groomed by my half brother when I was 3 and sexually abused by my 2 cousins when I was 8.
My mom was not really the best mom growing up and was emotionally neglectful and emotionally abusive. She is working on this and going to therapy.

I was hospitalised 3 times in my life. (All in middle school)
2 twice for suicide attempts, once for out of anger and spite for my at home therapists paying more attention to my dad and not me so I threatened that I'd kill him. (Obviously not meaning it)

I've been self harming since 2nd grade. I have been suicidal since 5th grade.

I have a bad history of lashing out on the people I care about. My goal was never to hurt anyone truly.

I always felt like I was a toy and disposable to everyone in my life. I have bad trust issues and jealousy issues.

Why it took me so long to respond is because I've been having bad mental health issues. On the 26th of Feb, I attempted suicide but obviously failed. I put this below because I didn't want anyone feeling guilty or feeling like I was guilt tripping. I also wanted to have a genuine, thought out response. One not based on me during a breakdown.
I'm still standing by my old docs (unless stated otherwise) I do talk to my therapist about everything in great detail and is why I believe everything I do.

Anyhow, my main is gonna be locked for a while due to mental health.

If you are involved and reading this still, please just leave me alone. I've been on edge since being threatened to be doxed.
I honestly just want to move on from that and pretend that I wasn't threatened to be doxxed. I am sorry I hurt you and when I was your friend, that wasn't the goal.
I'm still getting therapy and help for everything.
Thanks for reading. -Avi
